

VINTAGE CHARM

Go vintage with a formal English reception. Think delicate cutlery, dainty details and an abundance of pink, purple, cream and gold for romance and sweetness.

THE VENUE

With its immaculate interiors and large windows overlooking the courtyard, The Salon in the National Museum of Singapore is enchanting and romantic. Located on the ground floor, it is ideal for intimate events. You can even have a fresco pre-wedding cocktails at the Terrace just outside.

THE FLOWERS

The Red Petals Florist designed a stunning centrepiece using fancy golden candle holders decorated with crystals. The staff also added a moss-covered base and lined it with ivy leaves, yam roses, brown roses and pink cymbidiums. In line with the look of vintage glamour, bamboo chairs in gold from Nanyang InC were dressed with pink cymbidium orchids and trails of ivy leaves.

Bouquet A quaint bouquet of roses and cymbidiums tied with ribbons, crystals and a vintage-style brooch, by C.A.M from Robinson.

Place settings The bronze and gold-coloured cutlery add a quaint and rustic element. Linen tablecloths are layered over each other and the table is set with vintage plates and tea sets.

THE CAKE

Shangri-La Hotel Singapore's area executive pastry chef, Hervé Potus, created a romantic vintage cake to evoke memories of a past era. The crown on top of the cake exudes stately elegance, while the top tier is designed with a woven pattern for some texture. The second tier is styled with elaborate motifs printed on icing-sugar pieces. Chef Potus also designed the icing-sugar blooms for the cake base.
